

REMEMBER WHILE TRAVELING

When traveling, remember that you should leave as few traces of human presence as possible.

THEREFORE,
PLEASE FOLLOW THESE
SIMPLE, BUT IMPORTANT
RULES:

-  Do not damage, cut, dig out, or pull our plants
-  Do not collect deadwood, pine and spruce twigs, break brunches
-  Do not disturb wild animals and their habitats. Watch them from a distance
-  Do not pick chicks with your hands and carry them away
-  Do not damage the soil cover and dig pits
-  If you travel by car, do not drive outside existing roads
-  Do not camp and make fire on sites not previously used by humans. Try to use available camping sites
-  If possible, use gas burners and take waste with you
-  Listen to the sounds of nature without loudspeaking devices
